Operation Notes
General Notes	Huge shout out to Marcella who ran the wardrobe track amazingly for the first two shows!		None.
LX	Some of the LX cues during Maria's Bow did not go with timecode. Hara took them manually. He then called Jo in between shows and they discussed it. The issue didn't happen again during the next two shows.	None.	None.
Audio	None.	None.	At the top of the bowing sequence Tom noticed that the cellist's mic went out. He checked on her and found out the mic element on her cello was not working anymore. He replaced the mic element with a back-up one. The issue was fixed in time for the third song "34-35". Colin (AV Swing) covered the audio station until Tom could return. Zakiyyah is aware that we are now down one back-up mic element.

Video	Our portrait studio QR codes did not work so the guests could not save their pictures. The valet started to take pictures for them on their personal phones while Colin (AV Swing) power cycled the system. After awhile, Colin got in contact with Simon and they started to troubleshoot the problem together.	We had the valets take pictures with the guests' phones so we could continue to troubleshoot what was wrong with the portrait studio's QR codes.	The team came up with a temporary fix for the portrait studio for the last show. The team plans to work with Simon on Tuesday during their work call to get the studio QR code issue figured out. Simon determined the LTE internet access needs to be restored.
